COULD YOU SURVIVE FOR 72 HOURS IN AN EMERGENCY?

Emergencies include floods, severe weather, power outages, and blizzards that can happen at any time.

Items to consider having on hand at all times:

- ☐ Water
- ☐ Non-perishable food items
- ☐ Battery operated light
- ☐ Battery or crank operated radio
- ☐ First aid kit
- ☐ Photocopies of important family records/list of medications
- ☐ Pet supplies (food/water)
- ☐ Extra set of keys
- ☐ Blankets/Sleeping bags
- ☐ Back-up battery for charging cell phones/laptops

TIP: Prepare now. Don't wait for an emergency to happen. Make your plan and create your kit to prepare yourself and your loved ones. Ensure that everyone in the household knows where the emergency kit is located.

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS IS EVERYONE'S RESPONSIBILITY.

The Town of Fort Erie and Canadian Niagara Power Inc. are encouraging residents to be prepared for an emergency before it happens. Our organizations are promoting the awareness, readiness, and education of residents. We encourage everyone to increase their knowledge and reduce risks in the event of an unforeseen situation. Know the dangers around you. Use this card as a resource and be ready for the different situations that can arise. Extreme weather, power outages and other serious events can occur quickly and with little warning. Be prepared to survive up to 72 hours. Have a plan.
